CODE OF ETHICS AND CONDUCT – MAIN ITEMS

The policy as well as the code of conduct are compulsory for all employees of the EMS-Fehn-Group!

Introduction

The EMS-FEHN-Group (EFG) was established by several companies operating in the international transport sector. In its beginning EFG was active in the field of shipping, working together with many different nationalities and cultural backgrounds and was always anxious for the respectful and fair interaction with all partners. These values are implicit and unwritten to most, but whilst the companies cooperating with EFG and accompanied the amount of employees increase we have decided to spell them out.

Beyond our convictions and commitments built up from the start we wanted to formally set out a set of rules of conduct that apply to all companies and our employees.

This code serves as reminder that all activities of EFG involve more than only strict compliance with applicable laws and regulations. We set out the principles of business ethics that must guide our conduct under all circumstances in all countries, based on integrity, fairness and respect for the dignity and individual rights of all persons involved.

These rules have been determined, examined and approved in cooperation with the managing directors of all companies and will be made available to all employees accordingly. Compliance with these set out rules are verified during the daily business and by consulting both internal and external involved parties.

We, as EFG, are counting on each and every employee – in the offices, working areas or on board vessels – to internalize these rules so that we can continue to enjoy the trust of our clients, partners, shareholders and employees and to remain true to the values that bring us together.

Our Convictions

- Private sector companies for transportation services

EFG's corporate service is the safe and proper transport of cargo with any mode of transportation by well trained and professional personal. The transports reach from short distance tracks to the multimodal transport including own trucks and seagoing vessels. Further the cargo handling operation at certain seaports is arranged by EFG. Additionally we represent compliance to all applicable laws and regulations, both international and national.

- Evaluation of values

The performance of the group is measured not only by the economic and financial results, rather than taking into account the environmental and personal values as well which are implemented since establishing of the companies. The effects of all services provided by EFG are checked and evaluated to exert minimum negative influence on the safety, (work) environment and cultural as also personal actuality.

- Management model

Overviewing the developments of all companies is appointed to separate managements throughout the group, though regular meetings are held for interchanging experiences and work developments of the different fields of operation. The model based on operating unit autonomy and empowerment of managers shall encourage each employee to perform to the best of his / her abilities within the provided framework.

- Sharing of knowledge and success

Seeking global competitive performance and pursuing long-term economic, safety and environmental goals EFG strive for sharing its successes with all employees alike as well as clients, shareholders and the community at large.

Our Commitment

- Highly qualified personal

EFG is aiming for keeping long-term jobs with professionally trained personal for supplying our clients with the utmost experience in safe and qualified services. To keep up with new developments in all areas EFG is offering each employee training to increase skills and knowledge for promotion.

The career development is applicable to all personal in the offices, working areas and on board vessels alike.

- Occupational Health and Safety

The first duty of EFG is to ensure occupational health and safety to all its employees. Achieving zero accidents to its employees and subcontractors alike is the objective given out by the top management. For that an internal group based Risk Assessment tool is implemented and updated permanently to have risks for safety of personal and cargo identified and preventive actions / measures are taken. All managements are closely involved in the implementation, monitoring and correcting the respective corrective and preventive measures.

- Equality

EFG set out principles of prohibiting discrimination on any grounds of persons related to skin, gender, religion, culture or age. These principles are based on mutual trust and respect to ensure that everyone is treated with dignity. EFG does not tolerate any form of discrimination in any way and takes appropriate actions if discovered.

- Environmental Protection

In all operating activities EFG strives to meet environmental standards to conservation and sustainability of natural resources, waste management and prevention of pollution. The environmental management systems are supplementing the quality management in its continuous development and improvement process.

EFG ethic rules

EFG sets out certain obligations and principles to its employees and subcontractors regarding general behavior. These rules are meant to exceed the applicable laws and regulations beyond compliance to achieve exemplary professional conduct in the interest of EFG.

Each and every employee must gain sufficient familiarity about the terms applicable for their respective activity being aware of all possible impacts such as country operating in, religious or cultural circumstances and common practices.

If this code of conduct is deemed incomplete or imprecise all parties are invited and encouraged to consult their superiors or group's quality department.

a. Respect of individuals

EFG applies human resource policy in compliance with the applicable law. It does not tolerate any kind of racist behavior in any way against any people, regardless their nationality, religion, culture or others. Violating against this will lead to drastically steps taken by EFG against the indicted person(s) and / or company(s).

b. Compliance management

All companies and their employees must comply with all applicable laws and regulations, both national and international. All employees must refrain from any actions involving employees, the company or the group into any illegal practices.

Any misconduct is to be reported to the superiors or quality management accordingly and will be brought to the attention of top management. The misconduct will then be evaluated and clarified with all means of the quality management.

c. Antitrust

Competition can only develop freely when it is fair. EFG is committed to integrity and fairness when competing others in the market. Conduct that undermines competition is not tolerated. EFG will compete in an ethically justifiable manner within the framework of the antitrust and competition rules in the market.

Antitrust laws prohibit agreements or actions that might eliminate or discourage competition, bring about a monopoly, abuse a dominant market position, artificially maintain prices, or otherwise illegally hamper or distort commerce.

It is therefore explicitly prohibited, e.g. to make agreements dividing up markets, regions or customers, to make agreements not to compete, to discuss processes related to participation in tenders, or to exchange information about prices, market shares or other market conditions with competitors, customers and business partners in violation of the applicable law.

d. Corruption

Corruptions undermine economic development and free competition. It ruins reputations and exposes both companies and individuals to risk EFG is against all forms of corruption does not occur in any parts of the company's business activities.

The prohibition of corruption applies to EFG and to all persons acting on our behalf. In case of violations, it might lead to serious consequences both for the individuals involved as well as for EFG.

Gifts however – of material or immaterial value and nature – may be offered or accepted if the value is negligible or reasonable for the provided circumstances. In doubt the superior of management is to be consulted prior acceptance or offering.

e. Conflicts of interests

Every company and employee under EFG is obliged to act loyal to the Group. Therefore the employees may not accept any work offered by suppliers, clients or competitors which could affect their performance of duties within the group.

In order to prevent the incidence of being involved into the conflict of personal against group's interests the employees must inform their superior or compliant / quality management to refrain from any involvement into business relation between the group and the third party concerned.

f. Transparency and control

In order to continuously improve and develop the group's performance and quality management each employee shall take an active part in identifying, correcting and preventing any problems occurred.

Honest and accurate recording is of imminent necessity to provide full transparency in the operations and services, also in respect of applicable regulations and internal procedures.

The compliance is checked on confirmed during the daily business operation in cooperation with all employees. Additionally periodically checks and audits are carried out by the group's representative quality department. Any obstruction of executing these audits properly or disclosure of records and documentation is prohibited and might lead to serious consequences.

g. Anti-bribery and anti-corruption (Bribery Act 2010)

Our organization will follow all applicable (national and international) laws and regulations as well as the bribery act 2010 (or latest edition).

Implementation

Each management of the group is responsible for implementing the ethic requirements set out in this code adapting specifically the features of activity and the country operating in. Compliance is required of all employees and all persons are urged to be vigilant with regards to their own and team members' conduct.

If an employee conceives the not compliance with any mandatory rule, law or regulation set out in this code it must be reported to the supervisor or quality department as soon as possible, for detecting and erasing this misconduct. Any complaint is brought to the attention of the Group's top management.

All employees are reminded that the rules set out by the top management in this code are subject to them regardless of the position.

Any failures in corresponding with these rules constitute a fault and may be subject to sanctions and punishments appropriate to the fault, complying with the applicable laws.

Such sanctions may include dismissal for fault and damages even if the failure is detected by the internal group controls.

Employees having questions about any of these rules and regulations or difficulties in understanding and implementing is invited to contact the top management or QHSE-management (quality@ems-fehn-group.de).

These rules and regulations are entering into force from the day set out and will be regularly reviewed and published to all parties concerned.
